Property Accountability

Accounting for Library Materials

By order of the Secretary of the Army:

JOHN M. KEANE
General, United States Army
Acting Chief of Staff

Official:

JOEL B. HUDSON
Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Army

History. This publication is a major revision.

Summary. This regulation provides policies and procedures for accounting for library materials in U.S. Army libraries.

Applicability. This regulation applies to the Active Army, the Army National Guard of the United States (ARNGUS), including periods when operating in an Army National Guard (ARNG) capacity, and the U.S. Army Reserve (USAR). It also applies to all personnel who are employed or are working in an Army library, and to those individuals who are provided services from an Army library.

Proponent and exception authority. The proponent of this regulation is the Deputy Chief of Staff, G–4 (DCS, G–4). The DCS, G–4 has the authority to approve exceptions to this regulation that are consistent with controlling law and regulation. The Army G–4 may delegate this approval authority, in writing, to a division chief within the proponent agency in the grade of colonel or the civilian equivalent.

Army management control process. This regulation contains management control provisions in accordance with AR 11–2, but it does not identify key management controls that must be evaluated.

Supplementation. Supplementation of this regulation and establishment of command and local forms are prohibited without prior approval from Director, Logistics Transformation Agency, ATTN:

LOIA–AP, 5870 21st Street, Fort Belvoir, VA 22060–5941.

Suggested improvements. Users are invited to submit comments and suggested improvements to this regulation. Internet users can submit their comments and suggested improvements through the electronic DA Form 2028 (Recommended Changes to Publications and Blank Forms) found within this regulation. Anyone without Internet access should submit their comments and suggested improvements on a DA Form 2028 directly to HQDA, ODCS, G–4, ATTN: DALO-SMP, 500 Army Pentagon, Washington, DC 20310–5000.

Distribution. This publication is available in electronic media only and is intended for command level D for Active Army, the Army National Guard of the United States, and the U.S. Army Reserve.

Chapter 1

Accountable Material and Responsibilities

1-1. Purpose

This regulation prescribes policies and procedures for accounting for Department of the Army (DA) library materials, regardless of the source of funds or the method of acquisition, such as donations and transfers.

a. The following types of materials are accountable library items when they have a unit value of $100, or more or are part of the cataloged collection:

- (1) Books, clothbound or paperbound.
- (2) Bound periodicals.
- (3) Technical reports.
- (4) Microforms.
- (5) Art prints.
- (6) Videocassettes.
- (7) CD-ROM disks.
- (8) Computer software packages such as instruction aids and video games.
- (9) Slide sets and realia.

b. It does not apply to—

- (1) Unvouchered library materials having a unit value of less than $100.
- (2) Library materials in combat areas, peace operations, or crisis and emergency situations.
- (3) Desk and office books not on loan from a library such as dictionaries, thesauri, and secretarial handbooks issued by, or purchased through supply activities. (See AR 710-2 and DA Pam 710-2-2.)
- (4) Class materials, such as textbooks, charged to students for the duration of a course.
- (5) Books in Army law libraries that are serviced by the Army Law Library Service (ALLS). (See AR 27-1, chapter 12.)
- (6) Unbound periodicals, loose-leaf services, laboratory notebooks, pamphlets, and unbound compilations.
- (7) Computer software, film, and visual information collections maintained in offices and activities other than formally organized libraries.
- (8) Software used only by library staff to perform library operations.
- (9) Bibles purchased by chaplains for presentation to soldiers and family members.
- (10) Reference book sets issued to medical units under Army Regulation (AR) 40-61, paragraph 3-64.

1-2. References

Required and related publications and prescribed and referenced forms are listed in appendix A.

1-3. Explanation of abbreviations and terms

Abbreviations and special terms used in this regulation are explained in the glossary.

1-4. Responsibilities

a. The Deputy Chief of Staff, G-4 (DCS, G-4) will direct the Chief, Library Programs, U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center to establish policy for accounting for library materials.

b. The Director, U.S. Army Logistics Transformation Agency (LOIA-AP) will ensure that the policies for accounting for library materials are consistent with overall policies on accountability.

c. The Chief, Library Programs, U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center will, as delegated by DCS, G-4, exercise Army-wide responsibility for developing policies and procedures, and for monitoring the accounting of library materials.

d. Commanders at all levels will ensure compliance with this regulation.

Chapter 2

Managing Library Materials

2-1. Procedures

a. This regulation prescribes the procedures for accounting for library materials while—

- (1) In stock in a library property account.
- (2) Being transferred to a Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office (DRMO), or to the Surplus Book Program of the Library of Congress, Government Documents Section.

b. When library materials become lost, damaged, or destroyed due to causes other than fair wear and tear, use the procedures contained in AR 735-5, paragraph 12-1c to adjust the accountable records and to assess financial liability when appropriate.

c. When library materials are received, DA Form 3973 (Voucher Register of Library Materials) serves as the primary property accounting record. After materials are prepared and made ready for borrowers, the shelf list and circulation records (manual or electronic) serve as the primary property accounting records instead of the voucher register of library materials. Accountability will revert to the voucher register of library materials when the materials are to be transferred to another library account, another property account (per paragraph 2-12b below), or to a DRMO. Accountability of library materials at the losing library account ends when the transfer is completed.

d. Accountability for library materials issued by a library account to a field library will be terminated when the necessary documentation is prepared and the materials are shipped or issued to the field library. Library materials issued to a field library account will be listed as a single line item for each medium type by total quantity on either DA Form 2765-1 (Request For Issue Or Turn-In) or DA Form 3161 (Request for Issue or Turn-In). Accountability will be reestablished for library materials returned by the field library to the library account or when they are to be transferred to another library account, another property account (per paragraph 2-12b below), or to a DRMO. Accountability for library materials being shipped ends for the losing library account when the transfer is completed.

e. Offices and activities at the installation level and above, having office collections will incorporate them into their supporting library property account discussed in paragraph 2-2a below. (Does not pertain to office collections exempt under paragraph 1-1b above.) Library materials issued by a supporting library on a long-term loan for office collections will be listed as a single line item for each medium type by total quantity on DA Form 2062 (Hand Receipt/Annex Number). Medical libraries will control long-term loans using the DA Form 3161 or DA Form 2765-1.

f. Responsible individuals signing long-term loans for office collections are subject to the assessment of financial liability under AR 735-5 should these library materials become lost, damaged, or destroyed while under their control. No library materials will be left in a department or office without signature or circulation control. Review of office collection accounts will occur whenever the responsible officer changes. In addition, these collections are considered accountable property and are required to be inventoried annually.

2-2. Library property account serial numbers

a. Library property accounts. Library property accounts are required for all Army libraries. The U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center assigns serial numbers for these accounts, except for Army medical and law libraries. Requests to establish, change, or cancel accounts will be made through command channels as the need occurs.

b. Establishing a new account. Installation or activity commanders will submit requests for assignment of property account serial numbers (except for Army medical and law libraries) through command channels to the U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center, (CFSC-CR-L), Alexandria, VA 22302-4418. Each request for a library property account number will include a description of the proposed content of the library, how the library will be supported, and the projected number of items by medium type of accountable library materials. It will also include justification for establishing a new library account and indicate whether a professional librarian, GS-1410 series, will supervise the account. The librarian (GS-1410 series), assigned as the library property account officer, will be identified.

c. Termination of an account. Installation or activity commanders will submit requests for termination of library property account serial numbers, established under this regulation, through command channels to the U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center (CFSC-CR-L), Alexandria, VA 22302-4418. Each request will contain a description of the collection to include the collection size, physical condition, subjects, and the media types. The request will also state the reason for closing the library and how the organization will continue to receive library support for its mission. An example of acceptable level of continued library support would be a memorandum of understanding (MOU) or a contract with another Army library providing professionally directed reference and research, an interlibrary loan, document delivery, or access to the providing library's online catalog and commercial information services.

d. Army law libraries. Property account serial numbers will be issued by the Commandant, The Judge Advocate General's School, on approval of the request to establish a library under AR 27-1.

e. Army Medical Department (AMEDD) libraries. Each AMEDD medical library property account will be assigned a Department of Defense activity address code (DODAAC) to be used as an account number under AR 40-3. Headquarters Medical Command (MEDCOM), U.S. Army Medical Research and Materiel Command (MRMC), and Headquarters, U.S. Army, 18th MEDCOM, Korea, will coordinate, obtain, and control DODAACs for their specific commands.

f. Account numbers. Account numbers currently maintained for library property accounts, except for Army medical and field law libraries, are listed in table 2-1.

2-3. Control records

Librarians maintain manual or electronic records that provide required information to reflect the total holdings of the library and to meet accounting requirements for safeguarding funds and property. Records are also maintained to reflect the loan of materials and to provide classification data (para 2-13a). This paragraph pertains to the following records that control the addition and final disposition of materials to and from a library property account.

a. Voucher. All materials incorporated into a library account will be supported by a voucher. At the beginning of each fiscal year the accountable officer will assign each voucher a number in numerical sequence beginning with the number one. These vouchers will be filed for later inspection or audit. A separate sequence will be maintained for each type of informational material in the account. Vouchers may include shipping documents, receiving reports, turn-in slips, issue slips, reports of survey, adjustment reports, vendor's invoices or packing lists, and similar forms. Both DA Form 2765-1 and DA Form 3161 will be used for issue and turn-in purposes. For documents that contain both accountable and nonaccountable materials as described in paragraph 1-1, only the accountable items listed on the document will be recorded. Canceled, lost, or missing vouchers will be recorded on the voucher register of library materials per paragraph 2-3b below. They will be annotated to show the cause for cancellation, or a notation will be entered stating that the voucher was lost. The statement for canceled or lost vouchers will give the voucher number and an explanation of the loss. This statement, signed by the accountable officer, will take the place of the canceled or lost voucher. Canceled voucher numbers will not be reused. Vouchers that transfer accountability to another library property account, DRMO, or the Library of Congress (Government Documents Section, Surplus Book Program) will show only the total number of items by media types.

b. Voucher register of library materials. All vouchers recording the receipt, adjustment, transfer or other final disposition of library materials will be recorded on DA Form 3973 (Voucher Register of Library Materials). An electronic equivalent of DA Form 3973 may be used provided it contains all the essential elements of data. The voucher register of library materials will be filed in the voucher file. A separate voucher register of library materials will be maintained for each type of material in the library account. For example, a separate voucher register will be maintained for books, for CD-ROM's, for videocassettes, and so forth. Mixed media will be counted under the predominant medium in which the item was purchased or donated. Voucher registers will be cut off at the end of every fiscal year, retained for 2 years, and then destroyed per AR 25-400-2. The voucher registers will provide the total number of items by media types in the library or the technical processing center. Instructions for preparing DA Form 3973 are contained in figure 2-1 below.

c. Completion instructions for DA Form 3973.

1. Account number. Enter the library property account number as assigned per instructions in paragraphs 2-2 and listed in table 2-1.
2. Fiscal year. Enter the current fiscal year.
3. Name and address of library. Enter the name of the organization and mailing address of the library.
4. Material. Check the type of material that is entered on this register.
5. Voucher number. Enter the serial number as discussed in paragraph 2-3a. When a voucher number is canceled for any reason after being assigned, the number will be over stamped.
6. Type of voucher. Indicate by correct abbreviation the type of document to which the number is being assigned; for example, inventory adjustment report (IAR), issue slip (IS), turn-in slip (T/S), receiving report (RR), shipping document (SD), or report of survey (R/S).
7. Date recorded. Enter the date that the voucher was entered in the voucher register.
8. To or From. Identify the installation or activity, or enter the serial number of the library account or other property account, and location to which the library materials are being shipped or transferred, or from which shipment has been received. If materials are received from a commercial vendor, enter the name of the firm.
9. Debit. Enter the number of items received on the appropriate register for the medium type. If the number of items shown on an incoming voucher is different from the number actually received, insert the number received.
10. Credit. Enter the number of items being dropped from accountability on the appropriate register for the medium type.
11. Balance. Enter the total number of items by medium type within the library after adding or deducting the subtotal quantity entered in the debit or credit column for each voucher.
12. Remarks. Enter any other information necessary.
13. Error correction. To correct errors in entries, draw a single line through the incorrect entry and enter the correct information above the line.
14. Separate forms. A separate DA Form 3973 will be maintained for each medium type of accountable library materials.

2-4. Receipt of library materials

a. All library materials placed into a library property account will be supported by a voucher. Vouchers will be annotated to distinguish accountable items from those for which accountability is not required.

b. For library materials procured using appropriated funds, the voucher will be a shipping or receiving document as authorized for use within the Department of the Army. When materials are received direct from a vendor with only a packing list, library personnel will prepare and distribute a DD Form 250 (Material Inspection and Receiving Report), or other receiving report as required. Library personnel will report errors in item description or quantity to the shipper using a supply discrepancy report (SDR). The SDRs and associated responses may be reported on the SF 364 (Report of Discrepancy) by electronic means, to include automated discrepancy reporting system and electronic data interchange (EDI), customer service help lines, email, or any manner acceptable to the submitter and recipient. Only the quantity actually received will be posted on the DA Form 3973. A copy of the SDR will be filed with the DD Form 250 or other receiving report. When insufficient or no copies of shipping documents are received from a vendor or another DA installation, follow local supply procedures.

c. Accountable records for library materials procured using nonappropriated funds (NAF) will be maintained by the library property account. This property will be considered appropriated fund property for purposes of accounting and disposition per this regulation. The following statement will be placed on or attached to the vendor's bill or invoice, or a similar type of record, and signed as indicated:

The library materials listed herein (or the list attached hereto), invoice number_____, are transferred to library property account number _____, contingent upon verification by the librarian that the materials have actually been received. (NAF custodian (designation of fund and location)), and (librarian (verification).)

2-5. Accountable officer

a. Librarians (GS-1410 series) will be assigned as the accountable officer by the installation or activity commander using appropriate assignment orders for each library property account. Requests for an exception will be forwarded to U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center (CFSC-CR-L), Alexandria, VA 22302-4418.

b. The transfer of accountability between the outgoing and incoming librarian appointed as the accountable officer for the library property account will be accomplished per AR 735-5, chapter 5 (Transfer of Accounts).

2-6. Donations

a. Gifts or donations of library materials will be accepted in accordance with AR 1-100 and will be reviewed by the librarian to ensure that they meet collection development guidelines. Materials not meeting the guidelines will not be entered on the library voucher register. Instead, they should be either returned to the donor, turned in to the DRMO, or disposed of in some other manner acceptable to the donor. Acceptable unconditional gift materials meeting the collection development guidelines and accountability criteria will be added to the library voucher register, by total quantity, for each medium type using DA Form 2765-1 or DA Form 3161, which serves as a debit voucher. This property will then be considered appropriated fund property. The following statement will be recorded on or attached to the debit voucher:

The above library materials were received as a donation to the library property account number _____. (This statement will be signed by the librarian.)

b. Persons donating materials to a library account who desire a receipt will be provided a copy of the DA Form 3161 completed to show receipt of material. Library personnel will not assign a dollar value to donations.

2-7. Identification

All materials incorporated into a library account will become Government property. Each item, including component parts, will be stamped or marked in a permanent manner as appropriate for the material "Property of U.S. Army."

2-8. Lost, damaged, or destroyed materials

a. Library materials that become lost or destroyed through no one's negligence will be dropped from the accountable records using DA Form 444 (Inventory Adjustment Report (IAR)). Preparation instructions for inventory adjustment reports are contained in DA Pam 710-2-2, paragraph 9-12. Use of estimated cost figures is authorized. The DA Form 444 will serve as a valid credit voucher to the library or technical processing center account. Either the installation or activity commander or their designated representative may approve such shortages, regardless of the total dollar value. In acting on such reports, the approving officer should be aware that a certain loss in library materials will occur because of the nature of the library services rendered. Within a 1-year period, a 5 percent loss of the total collection is considered nominal. However, shortages of 10 percent in libraries with active field units are not considered unreasonable. If the installation or activity commander chooses not to approve the IAR, action will be taken as directed by the installation or activity commander per instructions contained in DA Pam 710-2-2, paragraph 9-14c.

b. Damaged materials for which negligence is not determined will be turned in to the DRMO, using a DD Form 1348-1A (DOD Issue Release/Receipt Document). The DD Form 1348-1A will be entered on the appropriate voucher register as a turn-in transaction.

c. Restitution is required from the borrower or the hand receipt holder when library materials are lost, damaged or destroyed while in their possession or under their control and negligence is involved. When materials are issued using hand receipt procedures, the hand receipt holder will be considered the borrower. Military and civilian sponsors may be charged with financial liability when the loss, damage, or destruction of library materials is the result of negligence or willful misconduct on the part of a family member. Restitution may take the form of replacement-in-kind or cash reimbursement. An identical copy, a satisfactory reissue of the same item, or an item of the same type of medium of equal value, as determined by the librarian, is also an acceptable replacement. Items replaced in-kind and payments made for lost, damaged, or destroyed Army property do not constitute a sale of Army property. Title to such property remains with the U.S. Government, per AR 735-5, paragraph 2-1f. Unauthorized copies of copyrighted materials will not be accepted for the purpose of restitution. Reimbursement is authorized using the current price of the item. If the person concerned does not voluntarily agree to make restitution, actions will be initiated under the provisions of AR 735-5, paragraph 13-2a(1). On the other hand, if the installation or activity commander determines restitution cannot or should not be made, the library accountable officer will be provided with a written statement to that effect. The DA Form 444, supported by the commander's written statement, will be used as the adjustment document and recorded on the voucher register.

d. Accountability for library materials previously lost that are later recovered and in good condition will be reinstated by listing them on a DA Form 2765-1 or DA Form 3161 and posting them as a receipt to the voucher register.

2-9. Restitution

a. No record of transaction is required in the property account when a replacement of an identical item or a different item of equal value in the same medium type is made, when approved by the librarian.

b. Cash reimbursements made to replace lost library items are recorded on DD Form 1131 (Cash Collection Voucher) showing the complete identification and value of the lost items. Cash received as payment for lost items will be deposited at the nearest installation finance and accounting office, in miscellaneous receipts, using the completed DD Form 1131. When property listed on DD Form 1131 is recovered after the collection of indebtedness, in full or in part, or the charges are reduced due to improper computation, the accountable officer must prepare an amendment. The amendment citing the specific alteration will be attached to the cash collection voucher as an exhibit. A copy of the amendment will be forwarded to the FAO/USPFO under a memorandum signed by the installation commander, directing repayment of the value of the recovered property to the individual, as a "collection erroneously received." When property is recovered the accountable officer must reestablish accountability for the recovered property per paragraph 2-8 above.

2-10. Audit

Audits of library materials at library accounts are conducted by the U.S. Army Audit Agency (USAAA) or the office assigned the responsibility. Audits will determine the accuracy and reliability of the records prescribed in paragraph 2-3. Discrepancies discovered during the audit will be reported to the accountable officer. Before final closure of a library or library system assigned a library property account serial number, a terminal audit will be conducted of the library property account by the installation internal review office.

2-11. Inventory

Inventories of library materials are required as follows:

a. Physical inventories of library materials are required once every 3 years on a cyclic basis. A cyclic inventory is the counting of some part of a library account's assets during a given period of time. Each group of library items must be scheduled so that all of the library account's assets are inventoried once every 3 years. Good librarianship dictates this should be a shelf-list inventory. DA Pam 710-2-2, paragraph 9-7b, prescribes scheduled cyclic inventory procedures.

b. On change of the accountable officer, a joint inventory between the outgoing and incoming librarian will be accomplished per AR 735-5, chapter 5.

c. Office collections will be inventoried annually by a library staff member.

2-12. Disposition of library materials

a. Library materials of historic interest. Before disposing of library materials, particularly when an installation or activity is being inactivated, the chief librarian, as the accountable property officer, and the unit historian will determine whether any materials may be of historical interest per AR 870-5. Items determined to be of historical importance include Army publications such as Army regulations, pamphlets, manuals, technical reports, Army studies, and so forth. Also includes unit histories, unit newspapers or periodicals; personal papers, manuscripts, diaries or other archival materials; and items dealing with an aspect of military operations, history, or procedures. Items determined locally to have historical importance will be reported through command channels to the Chief, Library Program, U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center (CFSC-CR-L) and the Director, U.S. Army Military History Institute, Carlisle Barracks, Carlisle, PA 17013-5008 for possible use. This reporting requirement is exempt from assignment of a requirement control symbol (RCS) per AR 335-15, paragraph 5-2n.

b. Transfer of library materials. Library materials transferred from one library property account to another will be listed by total quantity as a single line item for each type of medium on either DA Form 2765-1 or DA Form 3161 (Request for Issue or Turn-in). When available, shelf-list and catalog card records will be included with the transfer. Copy of transfer documents to include title information for library materials being transferred to property accounts other than another library account will be provided to the U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center, ATTN: CFSC-CR-L, Alexandria, VA 22302-4418 for review and approval prior to transfer being accomplished.

c. Excess library materials.

(1) Whole library collections determined to be excess will be reported through command channels to the U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center, ATTN: CFSC-CR-L, Alexandria, VA 22302-4418 for possible use elsewhere. This reporting requirement is exempt from assignment of a RCS per AR 335-15, paragraph 5-2n.

(2) Miscellaneous excess materials will be reported to the appropriate major Army command (MACOM) for review and possible use by another Army library or another Service library in the region. MACOMs may also notify other MACOMs of the availability of excess materials having installations within the region of the available materials. Library materials excess to the MACOM concerned and not of interest to other DOD libraries, may be transferred to the Government Documents Section, Surplus Book Program of the Library of Congress, under Title 41, Code of Federal Regulations, part 101-46.201, or transferred to the DRMO using DD Form 1348-1A. For OCONUS MACOMs, see paragraph (3) below.

(3) After all DOD requirements are met, overseas commands may donate excess library materials having no historical value to educational, medical, and welfare institutions of the United States, the host country, or other U.S. affiliated countries with the assistance and concurrence of the DRMO. See DOD 4160.21-M. The U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center (CFSC-CR-L), Alexandria, VA 22302-4418 will be notified, through command channels, of the number of items disposed of in this manner by type of medium and destination.

d. Worn, obsolete, and unserviceable library materials. Library materials that are worn out through fair wear and tear or have been determined by the librarian to be obsolete in subject matter will be transferred as excess to the DRMO. To expedite this transfer, these items will be entered by total quantity as a single line item for each type of medium on DD Form 1348-1A.

e. Sale of library materials. Accountable library materials will not be sold or given away except when transferred to and under the control of the DRMO and as indicated in sub-paragraph c (3) above. Disposition must be handled in accordance with paragraphs a through d above.

2-13. Operational records

a. Inventory record. The inventory record, or shelf list, is the official record of accountable library materials. Inventory records for library materials may be maintained in an automated or manual format. Manual records should be arranged in classification order. Records in both formats normally include such information as class number (for nonfiction), author, title, inclusive volume number of sets, publisher, publication date, and price. Inventory records for library materials other than books will include location and sufficient information to positively identify the item. This includes title, publisher, producer or artist, type of medium, date of production, and price. Inventory or shelf list records are not normally required for technical processing centers. At the time the last copy of an item is permanently withdrawn from the collection, the inventory or shelf list records will be destroyed by the librarian except as directed in paragraph 2-12b.

b. Circulation. Libraries will maintain normal operational records that ensure the proper lending, safeguarding, and return of library materials.

c. Overdue notices. Overdue notices will be sent out on a regular basis.

2-14. Fines

No monetary fines or penalties will be imposed or collected because of overdue materials borrowed from the library. Local policies will be set to ensure prompt return of materials, including materials on long-term loan to individuals, to the library within the time limit prescribed by the installation commander. Overdue notices may be used for this purpose. See paragraph 2-8c above for procedures to be followed when an individual fails to return library materials.

2-15. Installation clearance procedures

Under normal circumstances, signing or initialing DA Form 137-2-R (Installation Clearance Record) for individuals clearing or leaving due to permanent change of station (PCS), retirement, termination of employment, or other permanent departure from an installation or activity will be required. This requirement includes individuals responsible for long-term or indefinite loan collections, even if they have never checked out materials for personal use. The signing of a statement at a designated clearance point by military personnel and civilian employees (when applicable) that their family members do not have library property in their possession may be accepted.

2-16. Commercial activities

When a commercial activities (CA) cost study has been performed and a final decision is made to convert library operations to a contract, the accountable officer functions will be retained in house. Contractors cannot perform functions requiring personal judgment or discretion in determining Government requirements such as selecting and authorizing additions and disposal of library material. See AR 735-5, paragraph 2-11 and 12.

Section IITerms*Academic libraries

Libraries supporting the curricula of the parent school and may include historic materials and archives. The collection may be extensive and cover a broader subject range than that of the current school curriculum.

Accountability

The obligations imposed by law, lawful order, or regulation on a person to keep an accurate record of property, documents, or funds. The person having this obligation may or may not have actual possession of the property, documents, or funds. Accountability is primarily concerned with maintaining records.

AMEDD library or information center

A library belonging to one of the commands of the Army Medical Department.

Army Law Library

A collection of law library materials maintained by a judge advocate general's office or DA civilian attorney of a command, installation, or activity. Law library materials are used for legal reference and research in support of a command's mission.

Army Law Library Service

A branch of the Legal Research and Communications Department (formerly a branch of the Developments, Doctrine, and Literature Department) of The Judge Advocate General's School, U.S. Army. This organization is responsible for all Army law library matters, including acquisition, policy, holdings, modernization, new selections, standardization, transfer, and disposition (AR 27-1).

Art object

An original two- or three-dimensional work of art, other than an art print or photograph created by an artist, such as a painting or sculpture.

Art print

An engraving, etching, lithograph, woodcut, and so forth printed from the plate prepared by the artist.

Art reproduction

A mechanically reproduced copy of a work of art, generally a commercial edition.

Book

A permanently bound volume in durable or hardcover including monographs, serials, or bound journal issues/volumes. This term does not apply, for accountability purposes, to unbound compilations or paperbound volumes (having a unit value of $100 or less).

Borrower

Any individual, military unit or activity, or civilian activity other than a library or technical processing center, to whom library materials are loaned or issued for use.

Compact-Disc Read Only Memory (CD-ROM)

An optical disc storage system used with computers from which data can be retrieved but not entered or modified. CD-ROMs can hold at least 500 megabytes of digital data.

Computer software

A set of programs, procedures, and associated materials concerned with the operation of a data processing system. Normally software is stored on diskettes, also known as disc or disk.

Consolidated libraries

Libraries that represent a merger of various installation or activity missions to form one supportive library for its customer base. Missions supported in a consolidated library may include academic, special and general.

Direct responsibility

The obligation of a person to ensure Government property, for which he or she is receipted, is properly used and cared for, and that property custody and safekeeping are provided.

DOD Activity Address Code (DODAAC)

A distinctive six-position alphanumeric code assigned to identify specific units, activities, or organizations.

Field library unit

Any size collection of materials established where the number of personnel or lack of facilities precludes the establishment of a full-service library. May also be called a field collection. Field library units are directly supported by a library or library system; materials are loaned or exchanged on a regular basis. Normally, these units do not have an assigned staff.

Films

Photograph images on film, with or without recorded sound, bearing a sequence of images that creates the illusion of movement when projected in rapid succession.

Filmstrip

A length of film containing a succession of images intended for projection one at a time with or without recorded sound.

General libraries

Libraries that perform diversified functions in support of mission readiness, professional and technical skill development, voluntary education, lifelong learning, transition and career assistance, relocation, well being during peacetime and deployments, and leisure needs of the military community.

Inventory record

An official record maintained by libraries, of library materials that make up the permanent record of holdings of a library collection. Records contain adequate information to positively identify the item recorded. The shelf list serves as the inventory record for books.

Kit or multi media kit

Materials that consist of two or more types of media packaged and designed to be used together. As an example books and long playing records or books and audiocassette recordings are frequently found in language materials or children's materials. A separate voucher is maintained for these kits or multi media kits.

Librarian

A person qualified in the GS-1410, Librarian series (Office of Personnel Management Classification and Qualification Standards).

Library

A service activity established to select, acquire, organize, and make available print and nonprint informational materials and to provide information, reference, education, and research services. A library may be one facility or may be a system including a number of service points, such as branch libraries, bookmobiles, office collections, or field library units.

Library Property Account Serial Numbers

The identifying serial number assigned to a library or technical processing center (table 2-1).

Library system

Activities at one or more installations having administrative and technical functions that comes under a centralized or main library for technical management assistance. A system has an identifiable main library, and subordinate units such as branch libraries, bookmobiles, and field library units.

Loose-leaf service

Serial published in a binder or notebook and updated periodically with information that replaces material in the text. This continuous updating provides the most continuous updating and provides the most recent information on the subject covered.

Medical library

See AMEDD library or information centers.

Microforms

Usually a reproduction photographically reduced to a size difficult or impossible to read with the naked eye. Some microforms are not reproductions but original editions. Microforms include microfilm, microfiche, microopaques, and aperture cards.

Nonappropriated funds (NAF)

Dividends generated by the Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) in support of the morale, welfare, and recreation (MWR) for military personnel. These funds are locally generated income (LGI) and come from donations from private organizations, such as wives clubs, and other organizations. NAFs are funds used for the collective benefit of military personnel, their family members, and authorized civilians who generated them. They are separate from funds that are appropriated by Congress.

Office collection

Is a collection of library materials on loan from a library or technical processing center, to an office, organization, unit, or activity. These are reference materials needed to perform office work.

Periodicals

Publications published at intervals more frequently than annually, such as daily, weekly, monthly, quarterly, semiannually, and so forth. Normally, each issue contains separate articles, such as stories and features, plus pictures. Periodicals include newspapers, journals, proceedings, transactions, newsletters, and so forth. They may be published by commercial, nonprofit, not-for-profit, or Government sources and may be available on subscription, either with or without charge. Indexes to periodicals such as Engineering Index, Chemical Abstracts, Readers Guide to Periodical Literature, and loose-leaf services such as DataPro, VSMF, and legal supplementation are not periodicals.

Realia

Objects used to depict or demonstrate real situations or materials.

Recording

A phonograph record, magnetic tape, compact disc, or other medium on which sound and/or visual images have been recorded for subsequent replay or recall.

Responsibility

The obligations of a person for the proper custody, care, use, and safekeeping of Government property or funds entrusted to their possession or supervision.

Serial

A publication issued in successive parts, usually at regular intervals. Serials include periodicals, annuals, proceedings, and transactions of societies. They may include monographic and publishers series.

Shelf list

A record maintained by libraries of those materials that make up the permanent holdings of the library's book collection.

Slides

Transparent material on which a two-dimensional image appears, usually held in a mount, designed for use in a projector or viewer. Slides are often insets that support a training program or lesson.

Special libraries

Libraries that serve a special-interest group to meet its particular information needs, limiting the scope of the collection to the special subject interests of the host or parent organization.

Spot inventory

Is a recurring or cyclical physical inventory of a portion of the library's collection.

Technical libraries

A professionally managed collection that supports the specialized information needs of an organization's scientists, engineers, and researchers by providing literature searches, current awareness, document delivery and analysis and synthesis of information.

Technical processing center

A facility where library materials are received, processed, recorded, distributed, and as necessary, redistributed. A technical processing center primarily provides service to library outlets as distinguished from library users.

Technical report

Any publication prepared to record, document, or share results obtained from, or recommendations made on, or relating to, DOD-sponsored or cosponsored scientific, technical, basic or applied research.

U.S. Army Military History Institute

The U.S. Army Military History Institute (MHI) serves as the Army's repository for historical records and materials of the Army, per Section 4595, Title 10, United States Code (10 USC 4595). The mission of the Institute is to preserve the Army's history by ensuring access to historical research materials. By creating a concentrated collection that relates to the history of the U.S. Army, MHI seeks to foster a greater understanding of the Army's role in the history and future of the United States.

Videocassette

A recording on which visual images, usually in motion and accompanied by sound, have been registered, designed for playback through a television set.

Visual information (VI)

Those materials that are displayed by visual projection or magnification, through sound reproduction, or both to include graphic, audio, and video material, motion pictures, and special visual materials such as cartographic and three-dimensional materials. Microforms are not included.

Voucher

Is a document attesting to, or serving as evidence of a specific property transaction. Credit vouchers, such as signed receipts, support a reduction of on-hand balance shown on the property record. Debit vouchers, such as receiving report, support an increase in the recorded onhand balance.
